APB Charges MNCPPC Gave City "Short End of Stick"

The city's Advisory Planning Board last week expressed dismay over how the "mandatory dedication of open space" ordinance has worked out in Greenbelt. Reference was made to the tentative decision of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission to permit the developers of Greenbriar apartments to make a cash payment equal to 5% of the assessed valuation of the tract instead of requiring them to deed 10% of their land as permanent open space.

As a result, the APB said, in its report No. 105, the city is "receiving the short end of the stick." Instead of receiving 8+ acres of parkland, the city will end up with funds sufficient to purchase only about 2 acres, the APB charged.

The Greenbriar project involves about 80+ acres in the Smith-Ewing tract that will be used for development of more than 1,000 units of garden apartments. The APB said that the 5% fee in lieu of dedication would yield approximately $35,000 to $40,000. This amount, it estimates, would only permit purchase of roughly 2 acres of R-30 zoned land.

The APB also noted that since the developer was being allowed to give the fee in lieu of land dedication he will be able to construct more units than he would have been able to, given mandatory dedication. Thus, there will be less public land around Greenbriar to serve more residents than there would have been had mandatory dedication been required.

Stronger Stand Urged

The APB urged council to take an even stronger stand in the future in support of mandatory dedication on any subdivision in Greenbelt. On December 7, the city council had urged denial of the preliminary subdivision plan for Greenbriar, partly because the plan did not call for the 10% mandatory dedication. But at a meeting in January, the county planners gave tentative approval to the subdivision plan without the mandatory dedication provision, provided the developer satisfied MNCPPC's requirements for adequate recreation facilities.

MNCPPC officials said last week that the proposal for giving money in lieu of land was only a recommendation of its staff and that it will be considered by the Prince Georges County Planning Board at the time the applicant submits the final subdivision plat for Greenbriar. The staff also had recommended inclusion of a stipulation that the money be used to purchase land in conjunction with the high school site.

About the only comfort out of the situation, APB noted, was that negotiations with MNCPPC officials have resulted in assurances that in Greenbelt the land or money would be turned over to the city (rather than to MNCPPC) since Greenbelt is outside the MNCPPC parks district. According to the county ordinance passed in April 1970, the 10% dedication of land required of developers upon building a subdivision was to be turned over to MNCPPC. The law also provides that where the land to be subdivided is very small (less than 5 acres) or topographically unsuited for parks, the developer would instead be required to make a cash payment to MNCPPC equal to 5% of the assessed valuation.

SHL PTA OFFICERS

The following people have been elected as officers of the Springhill Lake Elementary School P.T.A. for the year 1971 - 1972:

President, Mrs. Dorothy Zur Nedden; 1st Vice President, Mr. Harvey Bale; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Jean Smith; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Beverly Lamberton; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Roseann Seibel; Treasurer, Mr. Paul Leofsky.

PAPER DRIVE HAS LIMITED SUCCESS

The city's experimental newspaper collection just about broke even, if certain indirect expenses are not included in the cost-sheet and if the direct expense of vehicular use is also deleted. This seems to be the preliminary assessment following the May 7 pick-up. A total of 11.4 tons of paper was collected. The revenue from the sale of this amount equalled salaries paid the six men who worked six hours each to make the collection. It did not meet such indirect costs to the city as these men's social security taxes or their retirement benefits.

But how effective was the pick-up as an anti-pollution measure? Here also the outcome was not totally successful. During the three-week period that residents were on notice that the drive would be held, an estimated 30 to 90 tons of newspaper was delivered to Greenbelt. The tonnage collected therefore equals at most a third of the total available.

In evaluating the drive, city officials are considering eliminating pick-ups in certain areas which were relatively unproductive — these being the areas of the apartment developments, for the most part.

Pick-ups for the Lakeside North area, however, did not fit the pattern. There two enterprising News Review delivery boys, Andy Woodring and Glen Gans, had posted notices in basement rooms, offering to carry out any papers to the designated collection point on Ridge Rd. The response to their offer was substantial, city officials noted with gratitude.

The city offices have planned another paper drive for June 4. All areas of the city receiving regular city refuse pick-up are to be included in this drive. A decision on including those apartment complexes not receiving city refuse pick-up is forthcoming.

BOTH SIDES SQUARE AWAY FOR GHI BOARD ELECTION

The Greenbelt, Homes, Inc. election is shaping up as a battle of two combines — "Critics of the Board" vs. "GHI Members for a Responsible Board." Candidates who had previously indicated an intent to remain independent found themselves caught in the vortex of controversy as both sides endorsed full slates for the five openings on the GHI board of directors.

New Postal Rates Effective May 16

Postmaster Emory Harman announced that increases in most postage rates will take effect May 16 as the new United States Postal Service begins its task of achieving self-sufficiency as required by the Postal Reorganization Act.

Harman explained that the new increases will raise first-class letter rates from 6 to 8 cents an ounce, and airmail letter rates from 10 to 11 cents an ounce. Post cards will go from 5 to 6 cents each and airmail post cards will go from 8 to 9 cents each.

No changes are made in the rates for parcel post, which is the principal component of fourth-class mail. However, increases will be made in the "book rate" which is classified as fourth class.

The new temporary rates also make changes in other postage rate categories and special service fees, such as special delivery and registered mail.

BIRDWALK AT LAKE PARK

Greenbelters will have a chance to get to know the birds at an early morning birdwalk in the Lake Park on Saturday, May 15. All interested adults and school-age children accompanied by an adult are invited to meet at the Braden Field entrance to the Lake Park path, near St. Hugh's School, at 6 a.m. Wear warm clothes, and if possible, bring binoculars. Experienced birdwatchers will identify birds for the beginners in the group. The walk is sponsored by a group of Greenbelt birdwatchers and the Recreation Department, and will be led by Stuart Jordan, a member of the National Audubon Society. For information, call 474-6878, the Recreation Department, or 474-4421.

IN GREENBELT'S LIBRARY

No films will be shown tonight, Thursday, May 13. The spring film festival will continue on Thursday, May 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the Meeting Room with these famous old films being shown: The General (Buster Keaton), The Dentist (W. C. Fields) and The Thief of Bagdad (Douglas Fairbanks); on May 27 Film as Art will be featured with these films: Seven Authors in Search of a Reader, Two Men and a Wardrobe, New York, New York, and Acceleration/Homo Homini.

For children ages 6-12 the film Salvage Gang will be shown on Tuesday, May 18, in the Meeting Room at 7 p.m. The WEB's book discussion group for children ages 10-12, will meet Wednesdays from 7 to 8 p.m. in the Program Room, May 19 and 26.

Critics of the Board are supporting candidates George Adams, Edward Devonshire, Jr., Ben Elkins, Milton Hoffman, and James C. Smith (4-H Southway). GHI Members for a Responsible Board are supporting candidates Nat Shinderman, Norman Weyel, David Lange, Janet James, and Donald Volk.

Shinderman, Weyel, and Lange are present members of the board. Two other incumbents — Charles Schwan and Alex Chavrid — are not running for another term. Schwan had announced this decision a year ago when he stepped down as GHI president after serving six and a half years.

The annual election will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, May 19 and 20. Balloting will begin shortly after 8 p.m. at the Wednesday night meeting at the Center School Auditorium and continue the next day from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Twin Pines office in the Center.

The five candidates receiving the highest vote will be elected for 2-year terms. Voting for candidates is by secret ballot with each member asked to vote for as many choices as there are vacancies (but not to exceed five). Unlike city elections, no previous registration is needed. All GHI members of record as of April 28, 1971 are eligible to vote.

Each family is entitled to only one ballot and voting card. A special color for proxy cards is used so that a check can readily be made on people voting two cards improperly.

Also to be elected is a 3-man audit committee for 1-year terms. Here again a polarization has taken place as the Critics of the Board are supporting Lekh Batra, Martin Blake, and Mabel Kandler. The GHI Members for a Responsible Board are supporting Alexander Barnes, James Foster, and Fred Birchard. One independent candidate — Gordon Allen — is also running.

A nominations and elections committee consisting of five members will be elected for a 1-year term through nominations from the floor at the Wednesday night meeting. Attendance of five percent of the membership or about 75 persons is required for the conduct of official business.

Biographies of the candidates appear on an inside page of this issue. Election campaigning within 25 feet of the polls is prohibited.

"PAJAMA GAME" AT GODDARD

Tickets are now on sale for the Goddard Music and Drama Production (MAD) presentation of "Pajama Game." Performances will be May 14, 15, 21, 22, 28, and 29 beginning at 8:30 p.m. in the Building 8 Auditorium. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

"Under No Circumstance"

To the Editor:

Some misstatements never seem to die - or are kept alive by repetition regardless of the facts.

Once again the "Critics" are persisting in spreading the "big lie" - this time in an open letter to David Lange. In my recent letter to all members I emphasized that under no circumstances could the Board of Directors sell or demolish GHI homes - frame or brick - now, when the mortgage is paid off, or at any time. I pointed out that a member's mutual ownership contract guarantees his right to his home. Consequently, it is not - nor was it ever - the plan of the Board to renegotiate the mortgage in seven years or at any time for the purpose of demolishing what Mr. Hoffman calls the "obsolete Defense Homes."

I repeat from my earlier letter - no greater disservice can be done to members that to make or repeat this charge. It is meant to cause fear among members. It is a cruel and malicious act.

Nat Shinderman
President, GHI

"False Information"

To the Editor:

A few days ago a flyer was delivered to some of the GHI homes. It was addressed to me but a copy was not given me. The author of the flyer claims ignorance of the status of GHI long-range plans though he has been a member of the planning committees for several years. He suggests that the Board of Directors plans to renegotiate the mortgage in seven years and then "demolish" the frame homes. The author knows full well that no such plans have ever been considered by the Board. It is ridiculous to suggest that such decisions would have been reached without guidance and approval by the membership. Further, Nat Shinderman in his letter to each member on April 9 proved that the Corporation cannot buy homes unless members offer them for sale and it certainly can't demolish them. His letter was sent to counter false information which was being spread. It is unfortunate that the flyer continues these falsehoods.

The author asks for my thinking on GHI plans. I support the collection and analysis of information which will help the Planning Committee, the Board of Directors, management and the membership to plan for our future. We need information from a physical survey, from census data, and from intensive reviews of present operations. I support the adoption of planning goals and a GHI master plan by the membership.

The flyer characterizes the campaign as a bitter one. It is obvious that the bitterness is one-sided. Emotional tirades and finger shaking are poor substitutes for reasoned discussion and debates. Indeed, it is difficult to discuss anything with a board critic who marches out of a meeting - as reported in last week's News Review.

Finally, the flyer invites me to a public meeting. It would be courteous when inviting an incumbent candidate to schedule the meeting at a time other than the same evening as a regularly-scheduled meeting of the Board of Directors.

Breach of Confidence?

To the Editor:

Perhaps the News Review has forgotten - I'm sure the GHI Board members have - that I skirted libel action in this very column nearly ten years ago with (touch wood) relative impunity.

I am aware of my position under law and I am fairly careful to avoid legal trouble. On the other hand, I am indeed prey to breach of confidence. I tend to trust people. I am not happy when my judgment tells me that my trust has not been justified.

Every man is forced to live on the assumption that his neighbors have the wit, as well as the integrity, not to do him injury. In this organization, where our major investments are tied up in an aggregate one totaling several millions, this consideration has even greater importance to each and every one of us.

Gordon Allen

Local Pollution Problems

To the Editor:

Right in our own backyard we have a perfect sampling of the problems that plague the Anacostia watershed. The Indian Creek area displays severe erosion, such as at Beltway Plaza; dumping on a floodplain, as at the A. H. Smith gravel operations; and chemical pollution, as seen in oil slicks from petroleum products draining from gas stations.

This Saturday, May 15, at 10 a.m. the Prince Georges Environment Coalition will sponsor a mile-long field trip led by qualified guides from the starting point in front of Klein's Department Store, Beltway Plaza. In case of rain, the hike will be held on the following Saturday, May 22.

Bring along school children, cameras, note pads and walking shoes for an outing that is not just a lark in the woods.

For a Comprehensive Audit

To the Editor:

We have noted the Article "We Get a Check-Up Twice a Year" (GHI Newsletter, May-June 1971) with interest. We also realize that this is a piece of campaign literature for which we all are paying willy-nilly.

Now, if the Board does not know the definition of a comprehensive professional management audit, the Greenbelt Mutual Homeowners Association will be glad to explain as will most GHI'ers! They too know!

First, the audit we receive according to our By-Laws and to which the Board refers is performed, and adequately, by J. Henry Oehmann & Co., whose auditors have performed this service for GHI for many years. BUT it covers inventory and a bookkeeping audit by auditors only.

A comprehensive professional management audit, with auditors, program analysts, employment analysts, management analysts will, among other things:

1. Determine the financial health of the corporation
2. Determine validity, health, adequacy and present direction of its management policy and offer alternatives (i.e., should we have built townhouses, shall we build more, shall we have a survey of frame and brick homes, DEMOLISH the OBSOLETE houses, etc.? Yes, it is a cruel plan).
3. Determine the balance of our work force - GS types vs. Wage Board, their productivity (1/2M dollars annual payroll) and the adequacy of this management.
4. Determine if we have provident management.

This comprehensive management audit will not have a magic solution. But it can tell us where we are and where we are going and how to DETERMINE OUR FUTURE. We ask the Board to stop the double talk. We are a group sincerely interested in our community and its people. We are not raising ghosts. We already have them. The Greenbelt Mutual Homeowners Association candidates all desire the comprehensive professional management audit.

City Notes

The impact on the city has been minimal this year, following the arrival of National Guard troops at the armory to control student demonstrations at the University of Maryland. Tents for the troops have been set up in Greenbelt Regional Park, and the city has been informed that city facilities will be used only as a last resort. Permission was granted the Guard units, however, to use the city's landfill site to dump refuse. Possibly the greatest effect on Greenbelt from the call-up was the five-day absence on duty with the Guard contingent of Gary Stenhouse, Assistant City Manager.

In preparation for the Memorial Day services, to be conducted by members of the American Legion Post, the parks crew relandscaped around the War Memorial on Centerway. Over-large shrubs were pruned or removed and new evergreens and annual flowers planted. New plants were purchased by the Greenbelt American Legion Post.

Odd jobs around town: cleaned the stream between Lakewood and Northway and poured the foundation for a 2-3 foot retaining wall across the stream, which will form a miniature waterfall; laid sod behind a new retaining wall on Southway, at the bay end of the lake, and near the Public Works Building; patched streets and sidewalks, a major section being the sidewalk along Ridge near the North End School; erected a chain link fence at the second ball diamond in Springhill Lake to keep balls from rolling into the woods. Swimming pool attendants have been readying the pool for the new season.

Two small dump trucks, both equipped with snow plows and one with salt spreading equipment, were delivered to the city. Although ordered in October, they were long delayed in delivery because of strikes.

Youth Volunteers Needed

Tip of the Month

by Captain Richard Custer
Fire Marshal
Greenbelt Fire Department

The season has rolled around again for outdoor cooking. This is one of the pleasantest activities associated with summer. Unfortunately, each year many outdoor parties are turned into tragedy by accidental fires caused by lighter fluids and flaming food.

Only liquids manufactured and sold for starting charcoal fires should be used. Before using, the instructions should be carefully read and understood. Liquids such as alcohol and gasoline release large clouds of flammable vapor in hot weather, and when used to start a fire, can result in a ball of flame enveloping the user. Starter fluids should NEVER be used once the fire has been started. The extra time it might take to get the fire ready is worth the possible injury avoided.

Food often blazes up when it is turned over on the grill. This operation should be done with care to avoid burns from the flash fire. It is always a good idea to keep water available to douse these flare-ups which are common in charcoal cooking. Loose clothing should never be worn at the grill as summer weight clothing is easily ignited by even the most brief contact with flame. Should clothing catch fire, DO NOT RUN, but lie down on the ground and roll over or wrap the person in a blanket. Lying down is the safest position as it reduces the chance of rapid spread of the fire and breathing of the smoke and hot gases.

Apartment dwellers should remember that it is against the law to use outdoor cooking equipment on or under balconies. Grills should be placed away from buildings and preferably in an area designated for that purpose. If in doubt about where to cook, check with your Resident Manager. Many apartments have special areas for outside cooking. Remember, a few precautions and common sense can keep the cookout a safe and pleasant experience.

YOU KNOW BETTER!

Candidates terming themselves "Critics of the Board" are trying to get elected to the GHI Board by down-grading the corporation, by playing on the fears of members, and by distorting the facts.

Instead of offering a positive program based on the economic realities of life, they have engaged in scare tactics and exploitation of personal grievances.

Instead of building up, they are tearing down.

They want you to forget the following accomplishments of the corporation:

1. Successfully appealed GHI's tax assessment; GHI to get $39,000 refund plus savings of $19,000 in 1971.
2. Fought zoning for high-density apartments that adversely affect GHI and Greenbelt.
3. Worked to change the site for the senior high school and to maintain the adjacent areas as open green space.
4. Increased the number of members on GHI committees which take part in making policies.
5. Held special membership meetings to promote two-way member-Board communication.
6. Published a Newsletter regularly to keep members better informed.
7. Developed equitable procedures for handling members' complaints.
8. Launched a major capital improvements program to preserve the value of our homes.
9. Invested GHI reserves to earn the highest possible return.
10. Started to rebuild reserves used earlier for capital improvements and emergencies.
11. Encouraged members to improve their homes through discount group purchases, loans for additions and improvements, and technical advice.
12. Fought air pollution by renovating boilers.
13. Continued to provide the best housing buy in the area.

Safety Rules For Pleasure Boating

Pleasure boating accidents and fatalities could be drastically reduced if more boatmen would observe a few simple safety rules and be more courteous, says VanLear Larrimer, Safety Programs Chairman, Prince George's County Chapter American Red Cross. The largest number of boating accidents—more than 1,250 a year—result from collisions with other vessels.

"Vessel capsizing consistently accounts for more lives lost in boating accidents than any other type of casualty," said the ARC safety chairman. Nearly 600 persons each year die as a result of boats overturning. To avoid capsizing, Mr. Larrimer advised boatmen not to overload or overpower their craft. Most boats made for outboard motor use have a capacity plate which indicates load limits and safe horsepower.

The Red Cross recommends checking weather forecasts before venturing into open water and taking along a radio to keep posted on changing weather conditions.

Another safety precaution is to forbid passengers to stand up or sit on the gunwales while you're under way, he adds.

There should be at least one Coast Guard-approved flotation device or lifejacket for each person aboard. Insist that weak and non-swimmers wear them at all times. All others should wear them during hazardous weather conditions.

If a boat is swamped or capsizes, it will usually stay on the surface. Stay with the boat and hang on until help arrives, unless you are in dangerous or extremely cold water. In that event, try to get ashore as quickly as possible.

If a person who can swim falls overboard, toss him a lifesaving device. Stop the boat. Instruct the victim to swim to it and then pull him aboard.

If a weak or non-swimmer falls overboard, first swing the stern away from the side from which he fell. Toss him a life preserver and promptly maneuver the boat back to him. Keep a close watch on him at all times and make the approach as you would to a mooring—at a reduced speed and slightly to windward, if possible. Shut off the motor within a few feet of the victim, then bring him aboard.

Finally, Mr. Larrimer recommends that boats be equipped with essential gear—anchor, oars, boat hook, extra lines or rope, fire extinguisher, tool kit, first aid kit and running lights if the vessel is to be used after dark. "And," he emphasizes, "all boat owners should know first aid, including how to administer artificial respiration."

They will examine such historical and cultural places as the Spanish Steps, the Munich Town Hall, Gouda, and King's Road. Stops will be made in Rome, Italy; Salzburg Province, Austria; The Netherlands; and London, England.

Students interested in this program should write James E. Kern, Secondary Education Social Studies, Prince George's County Public Schools, Upper Marlboro, Maryland, or phone him at 627-4800, Extension 274.

Gay Nineties Picnic

The Greenbelt Community Church is sponsoring its second annual Gay Nineties Picnic on Saturday, May 29, from 1-8 p.m. at the church. Open to the public, this year's picnic will be much larger and more varied than last year's.

Featured will be the old fashioned country store where smart shoppers can purchase hand-made items such as sun-bonnets, hex-signs, glass gardens, pomander ball, bean bags, penny candy and homemade bread. There will be an old-fashioned cake walk, and a gay nineties costume contest for the Golden Agers. There will be free games for the kids and art activities at a nominal cost. There will also be a sidewalk art exhibit featuring Greenbelt artists and craftsmen, a band and a barber shop quartet and chorus. Lunch and supper may be purchased — real old "shirt-sleeve eatin."
